Create and Manage Websites

Websites & Zones · https://support.jansma.vip/docs/jansma-vip-ads/websites-zones/create-and-manage-websites/

A website represents a digital property that contains one or more advertising zones. Use it to keep placement inventory, access and reporting organised.

Create a website

1. Open Inventory and select Websites.
2. Add a website with a name that clearly identifies the property and environment.
3. Add the approved public URL or property information requested by the workspace.
4. Save before creating its first zone.

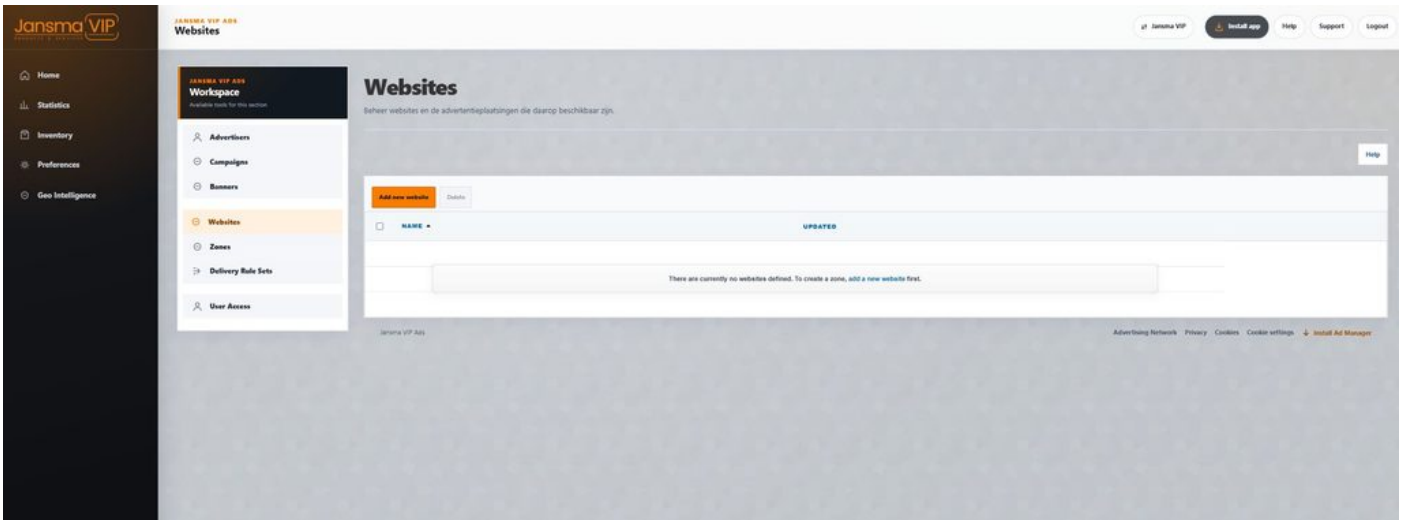

Naming and structure

- Separate production, staging and test properties.
- Use one website entry per meaningful reporting or ownership boundary.
- Avoid generic names such as “Website 1”.
- Keep notes operational and free of passwords or secret values.

Edit carefully

Renaming or restructuring a website affects how its zones appear throughout Inventory and Statistics. Confirm that the change will not confuse active campaign operations. Existing invocation code normally remains tied to the underlying zone, but always test after structural changes.

Deleting an active website can break delivery and historical context. Contact Jansma VIP Support before removing a property if you are unsure which live pages use its zones.
